NEW NICKELS HAVE ARRIVED

They Form Striking Contrast to the Old Design.

The new Buffalo nickels have arrived in this city and were given out this morning at the First National bank to those who desired them.

The new nickels have the standing figure of a buffalo on one side with the words "United States of America, 12 Parting Union" over it and the words "Five Cents" below it. On the reverse is a remarkably well executed Indian head. Above it, to the right, is the single word "Liberty" and below, on the left, at the shoulder of the Indian are the figures "1913." The face of the coin is concave, like the Lincoln cent, with the figures and lettering in relief. The slot machine men protested to the government that the coins would not properly operate their machines but the treasury officials have not heeded the complaint.

WILSON DUE THIS AFTERNOON

Washington in Holiday Attire to Welcome President-Elect—Will Be 30,000 in Parade

Washington, March 2.—Washington tonight awaits the coming of Woodrow Wilson, next President of the United States. Simple plans to welcome him tomorrow afternoon are ready and every detail is complete for the inauguration ceremonies and the attendant military and civic demonstration Tuesday.

No President-elect ever found the capital of the nation more brilliantly arrayed or more abundant with citizens than Woodrow Wilson will find it tomorrow. If nature smiles, Tuesday's inaugural will present a historic spectacle that probably never has been outdone.

President-elect Wilson and his family will arrive at the union station at 3:45 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. With them, in special trains, will come students from Princeton university who will form a lane from the train to the President's room in the station, where the inaugural reception committee of senators, representatives and citizens will await the Wilson family. Thomas Nelson Page, chairman of the committee, will greet the party at the train and escort them through the lines of students to the reception room.

Early in the evening the Wilson family will dine privately with Joseph Wilson of Tennessee, brother of the President-elect, and John Wilson of Pennsylvania, his cousin, who will be host at the dinner. Later in the evening, Mr. Wilson will be the guest at a smoker of the Princeton alumni. This will conclude his program for the day. Tuesday morning Senators Crane, Overman and Bacon, and Representatives McKinley, Rucker and Garrett, comprising the joint congressional committee on the inauguration, will call at the hotel for the President-elect and vice president-elect.

They will be driven to the White House, escorted by the Essex troop and the Black Horse troop of the United States Military academy through lines of students from Princeton university and the University of Virginia.

President Taft will await them and the whole party will proceed to the Senate chamber at the capitol, where the ceremonies will begin at noon with the inauguration of the vice president and swearing in of senators-elect. Then will follow the presidential inauguration, the return to the White House, where the retiring President will take leave of his successor, and the reviewing of the pageant from the court of honor.

Among the organizations which arrived during the day and evening were the New York First Cavalry, the Massachusetts Coast Artillery, under the command of Col. W. E. Lombard; the Eighth regiment, Col. E. L. Sweetzer; Massachusetts volunteer militia, a Worcester company, and Troop D of Massachusetts volunteer militia, Massachusetts Democratic state committee, Woodrow Wilson Democratic league of Newark, N. J., Twelfth company, Coast artillery of the Maine National Guard, and the militia of Georgia. The Essex troop of New Jersey, which is to serve

JUNK DEALERS BRING SUITS

Boston & Maine Railroad and Police Officer Philbrick Are Made the Defendants.

The Hebrew junk dealers of this city after a meeting held on Saturday afternoon instituted a suit against the Boston & Maine railroad and police officer Philbrick. In both cases the amount named is $500. In the suit against the railroad Jacob Goldstein is the plaintiff. His claim is that the railroad allowed the police to take away from the freight house metal which he had turned over to the company for transportation to Rochester causing a delay in the shipment and a loss by the same. The case against officer Philbrick is brought by Max Polner who claims that his metal was unlawfully seized at the freight house, that it was put back in a careless manner, and on the arrival at its destination, part of it was missing. It appears to be the sentiment of the junk dealers that they are being discriminated against, and they claim that they are instituting these suits as test cases and to determine their rights in the business they are conducting. The writs are returnable at the April term of superior court. Samuel W. Emery appears as the attorney for both Goldstein and Polner.

MAY APPOINT

Successor of Commissioner
M. C. Foye This Week.

The appointment of a police commissioner to succeed Morris C. Foye is likely to be made this week by the governor and council. The names of Ex-Mayor John W. Emery, John G. Parsons, and Michael J. Griffin are those prominently mentioned as candidates for the board. Another appointment is due this month when the term of Sperry H. Locke expires. The board cannot have more than two members of one political faith, and it is likely that Sperry will succeed himself. He is the youngest man to serve on the board since it was created and has made a good commissioner in every way since his appointment, one of the last official acts of the Mass administration.

BROKEN JOURNAL.

Causes Trouble on Freight on Main Line Track.

A broken journal on a car of an East bound freight over the Eastern route of the Boston & Maine held up general traffic for a short time between this city and Greenland on Sunday afternoon. One pair of trucks of the car loaded with iron left the rails and the relief train in charge of Conductor Frank Moore was sent to the scene. The Boston passenger due here at 3:10 p. m., was obliged to back to Greenland station and run via the inward track to this city. The relief crew cleared the track in about a half hour after starting to work.

MURPHY MENTIONED.

For Place of Kivel on Police
Board of Dover.

The term of John Kivel as police commissioner of Dover will expire shortly. While there are several who aspire for the place, it is likely that Mr. Kivel will succeed himself as the Democratic member of the board if he decides to accept it. As a member of the board he has given Dover good service and his work is generally approved by both political parties of that city. The most prominent name mentioned for commissioner, should the present commissioner decline to stand is Patrick W. Murphy, a law student.

A NEW COLOR.

Mail Boxes to Be Painted Red
Instead of Green.

Orders have been sent to all postmasters in the United States to have the mail boxes placed on the public thoroughfares and in public buildings and offices painted a bright red. The boxes are green but it has been decided for some reason or other in Washington to have them painted red. This is regarded as a mere passing freak of the postoffice department, since from time immemorial with occasional lapses green has been the color for letter boxes, red being reserved everywhere for fire alarm boxes. It is very probable that the order will be rescinded in a week or two.

NAVAL BILL THREATENED

Failure to Agree on Battleship Program May Defeat Entire Measure

Washington, March, 2.—With both the Senate and the House in the unusual situation of sitting in legislative session on Sunday, the 62nd congress today and tonight dragged its weary way through a maze of tangled business toward conclusion that will come at noon Tuesday.

Thousands of visitors in Washington for the inauguration took advantage of the Sunday night session to see the lawmakers at work. Thousands of spectators crowded the galleries of the House, where a meager attendance on the floor ground out the routine and rushed through minor bills with little consideration. Other thousands filled the Senate galleries until an executive session drove them from the chamber and sent them wandering through the brilliantly lighted corridors of the Capitol. At a late hour tonight the corridors were thick with visitors anxious to force their way into the House galleries already overcrowded.

Then end of the session rush of business had brought many who were interested in the various bills which they hoped might be slipped through in the rather disorderly procedure in the House where Speaker Champ Clark shattered the sounding board of his desk with his gavel in his efforts to control the noisy attendance on the floor and in the galleries.

Naval Bill in Danger
The two battleship program was threatened with defeat late tonight when the House and Senate conferees decided they could make no agreement between the one battleship program of the House and the two battleship program of the Senate.

All other debated points in the naval bill were adjusted but the conferees decided that it was useless to attempt to adjust the battleship tangle, and the conference committee adjourned at 11 o'clock without any plan for another meeting. The result threatens the defeat of the entire $150,000,000 naval appropriation bill. The House conferees declined to yield the one battleship program and also refused to take the issue back to the House for another vote.

A dozen conference committees worked throughout tonight's session, struggling to reach agreements satisfactory to both houses on various measures.

Several potential filibusters were apparent in both houses with opponents of proposed bills ready to fight against all legislation if attempts were made to pass the measures they opposed.

Hurry to Finish Business
Both houses of Congress after sitting well into the early hours of Sunday morning met again this afternoon to resume the effort to finish up pending legislation before adjournment Tuesday noon. Agreements in the Senate early this morning on the river and harbor bill, and the post office appropriation bill had cleared the situation that a spirit of optimism pervaded both chambers when the sessions were resumed shortly after 2 p. m.

PORTSMOUTH IS INTERESTED

Other New England Ports
Share in River and Harbor Bill.

President Taft may veto the river and harbor bill, but if he approves it, numerous provisions for Massachusetts and New England will become law. The provisions in the bill for this section which were inserted by the Senate, were generally accepted. These include $10,000 for improving Bass harbor bar, $10,000 for improving Deer Island thoroughfare, $16,000 for Currier's harbor at Vinal Haven, $53,100 for improving Pepperell's Cove, and $17,000 for improving Nodunk river, all in Maine.

A Senate paragraph, appropriating $83,500 for Plymouth, Mass., harbor, stays in as does $50,000 for continuing work on Block Island harbor of refuge. An appropriation of $100,000 for Point Judith harbor of refuge goes out.

Senate provisions remain in the bill for surveys of Thomaston, Me., harbor, and for Marlin, Mass., harbor; also for survey of Lynn harbor and the Saugus river. A survey is authorized for Malden river, with a view of modifying the project.

RAILROAD GOAT

(From The Press, Thompsonville, Conn.)

When will the general public grow wise to the fact that most of the legislation which is aimed at the railroads is the prompting of personal enmity?

or disappointment? Here we have a representative from the southern end of the state demanding that the government shall take over the lines in New England. If not that, then let such stringent measures of supervision be passed that the managers of the roads may willingly offer to throw the whole burden over on public officials. It seems that we have heard that this representative had ambitions which rightly or wrongly, he imagined were thwarted by someone connected with the railroad. That may be his right against which we are not saying a word. But when he asks the whole state to take up his personal quarrel and put indefensible legislative acts upon the books merely to satisfy his spite, we venture to think that he is asking too much. In other words, we believe that most of the measures against the public service should be carefully examined to see whether it is the common good that interests the legislator or his own personal grudge.

DRYDEN TO MEET A HEAVYWEIGHT

Ed Dryden, the champion light-heavyweight of New Hampshire will this evening meet the heaviest man in his wrestling career, in the person of George Bailey, the champion heavy-weight of Vermont. The match will be best two out of three falls and Joe Kilbough of Laconia will referee. Dryden had Kilbough on the telephone Sunday evening and he promised to be here on time to referee the match.

Bailey, who is the champion strong man of several states, weighs 215 pounds and he is a powerful man who has a fine reputation as a wrestler. He is at least 40 pounds heavier than Dryden and when he originally challenged it was for a handicap match, but as soon as he saw Dryden work against Cyclone Burns, who by the way has defeated Bailey, he reneged and asked for a straight match. The match is bound to be a hard one and Dryden will make a game effort to throw the big fellow.

John D. Parodi of Manchester the Greek light weight wrestler now claims the light weight title of the world having defeated Eugene Tremblay at Montreal, the holder of the title for some years. Tremblay is one of the best little men in the game and he and Parodi have had several struggles and have split even in falls, but last week the Greek made rather easy work of the champion.

The speaker at the John Langdon Club tonight will be Dr. E. T. Fairchild, the new president of the New Hampshire College.

JOHN LANGDON CLUB

The Ranks of the Holdout Brigade In Baseball are Rapidly Diminishing

Chicago, March 3 The holdout brigade is gradually diminishing. A few weeks ago there were at least 25 stars who declared they would not play this season for some reason or another. At the present writing the former list has been cut in half and will be smaller within the next two weeks. Some owners have given in to their men, while some players could not resist the lure of the diamond. Among the most prominent holdouts at present are Jimmy Archer, of the Chicago Cubs, Ed Konetchy of the St. Louis Cardinals, Jack Miller and Bobby Byrne of the Pittsburgh Nationals, Sam Crawford, Ed Stange and Jean Dubue of the Detroit Americans and Rube Marquard of the New York Nationals. The Cubs are also a holdout, but the chances are that President Navin of the Detroit Club will give him the salary asked for. Navin cannot figure why he should increase the pay of Crawford, Stange or Dubue when his team finished far down in the race last season. "These players pretend to be just as much in earnest however, as their employer, so that it may be some time before their differences are straightened out. Archer says he will not play unless President Murphy gives him $10,000 for the season. In view of the fact that the Cubs have threatened to let the catching, it looks as if Archer will not get what he asks for. Konetchy demands $7,500 but Manager Higgins says he is willing to give "Big Ed" $4,000. It is likely that he will accept the terms offered by Higgins. Miller is asking for an increase of $300 over last year and Byrne the same. President Dryfuss declares he will not give in. Now it's up to the players to sign or quit for the season. It is probable by the time the season rolls around all the aforementioned stars will be handling the pill for their respective teams.

END OF FREE SEEDS

Washington, March 1 After amending the bill to knock out the free distribution of seeds by members of Congress to their constituents and to provide for an investigation for the cost of establishing a national forest along the watersheds of the Potomac river and other tributaries of Chesapeake bay within forty miles of the National Capital, the senate passed the annual agricultural appropriation bill, it carries about $18,500,000, which is about $1,000,000 more than was carried by the bill as it passed the House.

It provides that the national forest reservation commission created a few years ago by Congress to investigate and acquire land for the protection of watersheds of navigable streams, shall investigate and make a report as to the feasibility and cost of acquiring the land on the watershed of the Potomac and other nearby streams within forty miles of Washington.

The amendment was offered by Senator Smith of Maryland. He urged that it did not contemplate any appropriation, as the forest reservation commission already has money at its disposal for the purpose of forest watersheds. After that explanation had been made no objection was raised to the provision and it was agreed to unanimously.

Senator McLean of Connecticut succeeded in having inserted in the appropriation bill, his bill already passed by the Senate, but apparently pigeonholed in the House for the protection of migratory and game birds. It contemplates the establishment of a nation-wide closed season for game birds during the breeding seasons, under regulations to be fixed by the department of agriculture. Senator Bryan of Florida tried to have the provision knocked out by a point of order, but the Senate decided it was in order and accepted it.

As recommended by the Senate committee on agriculture, the Senate adopted Senator Hoke Smith's amendment for the establishing of a division of market, that will give the farmers and produce raisers of the country tips as to the best markets and the best means of getting their goods to market. Practically all the other amendments urged by the committee were agreed to.

The most surprising action taken by the Senate during the consideration of the bill was the knocking out of

POLICE COMMISSIONER FOYE RESIGNS

Cut Morris C. Foye has tendered his resignation as chairman of the Police Commission to Governor Folger. The resignation was sent to the Governor last Tuesday but it did not become generally known until the last of the week. Col. Foye resigns because he has not the time to devote to the office.

Who will be appointed in his place is not given out as yet. The appointment will be that of Councillor D. W. Badger and it is safe to say that whom ever he names will be appointed by Governor Folger. The term of Sperry Locke expires this month and his successor will also be appointed making two new members of the Commission.

STUDENTS GAVE FINE ATHLETIC DRILL

The gymnastic team from the Young Men's Christian Association College of Springfield, Massachusetts, were the guests of the local Association Saturday afternoon and evening. Soon after arriving in town the gymnasts started out on a sight seeing trip, but as the weather was rather prohibitive for sight seeing they confined their trip to the business section of the city. Here they were relieved by the fair clerks who tended the counters of many of the new collections of five cent pieces Uncle Sam has just issued of which from all appearances they seemed to be over supplied; but after which they sang a song of "Oh Where Has My Nickel Gone." At five-thirty a committee from the Ladies' Auxiliary consisting of Mrs. Hill, Mrs. C. B. Richardson, Miss Rothwell, Mrs. Horace Frye and Miss Katherine Sweetser served a very bountiful supper to the team and invited guests, after which the center of attraction seemed to be the candy table over which presided Mrs. C. R. Hodgdon assisted by Miss Fay Trueman.

The main feature of the evening was the gymnastic exhibition given by the team which consisted of eleven men including a pianist. The men on the team are the "chosen few" from a group of a hundred and fifty gymnasts representing many of the states and several foreign countries. The program which consisted of eighteen numbers was exceptionally well rendered, beginning at eight o'clock and continuing for two hours. All the drills and gymnastic work was given with a snap and precision which is only seen in experts and professional gymnasts. The form and rhythm of movement at all times was especially noticeable and brought forth the worthy applause of the audience. Local selections from a trio consisting of Anderson, Taylor, and Heldt one of which entitled "I Wish I Had a Girl" was very cleverly rendered, the lights being extinguished, a trio of Taylor, Laun and Pennock gave a selection which consisted of an exhibition of Pyrotechnic Club Swinging (fancy movements with lighted Indian Clubs) A special number was given by request consisting of college songs which were given with a vim and zest only possible by those who "trampled the campus o'er."

$300,000 WASTED IN LUMBER WORK

Washington, Feb. 28.—The possibility of more thoroughly utilizing the enormous quantities of waste resinous wood produced in the timber industry has been disclosed by an investigation just completed by the bureau of chemistry of the agricultural department. The annual waste it is estimated is no less than 8,000,000 cords. This, according to the investigators, can be manufactured into paper pulp, turpentine, rosin, oils, pine oils, wood alcohol and other products to a value of nearly $300,000,000.

COMMITTEE TO REVISE THE CITY CHARTER

Mayor D. W. Badger has appointed the following committee of citizens to revise the charter of this city, with an idea of presenting it to the local delegation in Concord for adoption: Ex-Mayor Edward H. Adams, Ex-Mayor W. E. Marvin, Messrs. Fred M. Sise, Edward Seybolt and John H. Bartlett.

The local delegation stated at the hearing last Friday that if a committee appointed by the Mayor would revise the charter, they would introduce it at this session. No great change is anticipated other than to clear up a lot of small things. It has been suggested that the Board of Public Works be made a part of the Council. To do this it will be necessary to do away with the councilmen at large, and elect the Board one each year, so that it would make a board of Mayor and eight councilmen.

TO FOSTER "SEA SCOUTS."

Sec. Mayor Issues Order to All Navy Officials and Commandants to Aid in Forming Division.

Washington, March 2.—Sec. of the Navy Meyer has issued a general order to all Navy officials and commandants of navy yards and Naval stations to cooperate in every way possible in the development of a division of "sea scouts" as a branch of the Boy Scouts of America.

Notice of the issuing of the general order was received today by Collin J. Livingstone, president of the National Council of the Boy Scouts, and the National organization took immediate steps toward the developing of the sea scouts as an important adjunct of the Boy Scouts' organization.

NOT THE FIRST OFFENDERS

There was a complaint made last week about boys at the corner of Cass and Kingston streets, making trouble with snow balls for the employees of the Gale Shoe Co., passing that way. An investigation showed that none of the eight boys who were in Juvenile Court some weeks ago, for doing damage in that vicinity and who are now on probation, were mixed up in the trouble. They have been conducting themselves very properly while on probation and object to being accused of being in the present new mix-up.

EDUCATION NOTES

Agricultural education will form an important section of the International Congress of Agriculture at Ghent, Belgium, in June.

More than half the desks and tables in the primary schools of the Philippine Islands were made by the pupils themselves.

Gloicester, Mass., has six parent-teacher associations formed within the past three years, all working to make a bond of cooperation between parents and the schools.

Alaskan natives read American magazines. The United States Bureau of Education every year ships a number of current periodicals to the native schools.

The National Panhellenic Congress, composed of prominent college Greek letter societies, reports that it has "taken a firm stand against high school fraternities."

Sessions of the Newark, Ohio, high school are occasionally held at night, in order that the citizens may see at first hand the workings of their high school.

The California State Legislature has adopted a resolution favoring Federal aid for industrial education and urging the establishment of a national university and a department of education at Washington with a secretary in the Cabinet.

Miss Margaret Wilson is directing a movement to interest the women's clubs in urging social-center legislation in their respective states. The Russell Sage Foundation is cooperating with Miss Wilson and the Federated Women's Clubs in the work.

"The school authorities will lose a splendid opportunity if they continue to confine themselves to a bookish program and fail to take a position of leadership in the great social movement now going on throughout the country," declares J. D. Eggleston, chief rural-school specialist of the United States Bureau of Education.

Helping school officers in the hygienic features of their school building problems is one of the occasional services performed by the United States Bureau of Education. Dr. F. H. Dressler, chief of the division of school hygiene, with headquarters at Nashville, Tenn., has recently given assistance in preparing plans for school or college buildings in different sections of the country. Among these was a model consolidated schoolhouse to be erected on the grounds of the National Conservation Exposition at Knoxville, and a proposed new building at Tusculum, Ala., making use of open-air rooms.

Watchman, What of the Night?

When the great question of tariff revision comes up in the extra session of Congress will there be a reproduction of the bitter contest of 1894 in the middle of the second Cleveland administration? That's the question uppermost in the minds of thinking men, north and south, today. This paper ventures a prediction after a close study of the situation and hopes that each of its numerous readers, republican and democratic, will cut it out and paste it in a scrap book for future reference. When the advocates of tariff revision—and by this we mean those fellows "of the baser sort," of democratic antecedents now so numerous in Congress, who are known to calculate with their heels—begin their onslaught upon the tariff, hammer and tongs, they will be surprised at the strength of the protection sentiment which has grown up in the South since 1894. They will find, for example, that Maryland is hostile to free lumber, Louisiana to free sugar, Alabama to free iron in any form, from the ore up, and that in each of the other states of the solid South there has been a radical change and development along the lines of a rational protection of the industries of the United States. And these hatchet assailants of the protective tariff—especially the younger element of embryonic free traders—will open their eyes, we believe, when they see the democratic senators from the South standing shoulder to shoulder with the republican senators from New England and other parts of the North. Not in the defense of an unrevived tariff, but of a safe and sane revision which will have for its object improved conditions in manufacturing and in the American homes. Lively times are surely ahead for the hop and go fetch it type of tariff revisionists and we believe that before the last analysis of this important subject of tariff revision, which is sure to be a successful one, there will be an absence of sectional treatment and we will see northern and southern protectionists standing together. When the great struggle shall come there should be in the field, equipped for action, a republican successor to Senator Burnham of New Hampshire, of whose loyalty and ability there could be no doubt.

A Wise Precaution.

Washington landlords are wise to the fact that a large percentage of the patriots who are at this moment in possession of the capital city, have no intention of returning home with pockets quite bare of souvenirs provided they can smuggle into the aforesaid pockets anything in the form of a souvenir from a silver teaspoon to a pair of silver salt shakers when the aforesaid landlords may be looking the other way. But the government itself indirectly is setting the pace in this matter by substituting in the Senate restaurant, tin for silver wherever and whenever practicable. But it will not make a particle of difference to the visitor in quest of something which will cost him nothing and to him a bit of tin ware from the capital will be as valuable as solid silver. But, after inauguration, there's likely to be a corner in tinware in the District of Columbia.

An Object of Pity.

President-elect Wilson had a pretty hard time of it as a rough rider among New Jersey grafters and spoilsmen generally but before he has been in the White House a year we believe he will look back upon his New Jersey experiences as a long drawn out Sunday school picnic. Should he attempt to carry out the program enunciated in his pre-election speeches—and in the main it could be indorsed by any right-minded man—he will find himself the target for all the democratic horns that could be assembled conveniently in one nest. Even if able to survive their stings he will move, with wonderful celerity, for a realignment of political parties, which shall leave out of his particular following the striped tiger of Tammany and the striped inmate of the institution to which Tammany is tributary.

Free Seed Distribution.

Perhaps Senator Kenyon of Iowa builded more wisely than he knew, and then again perhaps he did not, when he introduced, and procured the adoption of, an amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill providing specifically for the abolition for all time of free seed distribution. For the last fifty years there has existed no greater governmental humbug than this same free seed distribution which of late years has cost Uncle Sam approximately a quarter of a million dollars annually. At the outset this free seed distribution was intended to, and did, accomplish a great deal of good in the middle and far west particularly, when the agriculturist needed the stimulus of free seeds, but that time passed on long ago and the custom has degenerated into a more or less direct bid for votes. And the worst of it is that it was so understood by nearly everybody, sender and recipient alike, and more than one congressman would have cut out the whole business long ago had he not feared the condemnation of some constituent whom he might have inadvertently overlooked in sending out these alleged favors. As carried on since 1870 the work of so distributing these seeds as not to upset the equilibrium of some of "the folks to hum" who would have been likely to get after his scalp at the next election, has been a great and growing tax upon the time of congressmen, especially of those representing large agricultural communities, and they will feel like raising a popular subscription for a loving cup or some other testimonial for the Iowa senator who has dared to the extent of a willingness to lose his senatorial job. Even the recipients, and plants, of the seeds were in no sense deceived. Each knew that there was no disinterestedness back of the gift and that the motive of the sender was simply to make himself politically solid with his constituents. The Bible asks whether men expect to gather grapes from thorns or figs from thistles, but the fact is that if a man received a package of turnip seeds he was as sure of getting a crop of radishes or pumpkins as turnips, but the consolation for his disappointment lay in the fact that the alleged turnip seed had cost him nothing.

President's Reviewing Stand and Grand Stand In Front of Treasury Building at Inaugural Parade.

Photos copyright, 1913, by American Press Association.

In preparations along the line of march for the great parade at the inauguration of President Wilson the two most important points were considered the court of honor and the grand stands in front of the treasury building. The structure in the court of honor was built as the place where the president should stand in reviewing the parade. The largest grand stands were erected in front of the treasury building. Above at the top is a view of the president's reviewing stand and below the structure in front of the treasury building.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Don't Believe in Parade.

To the Editor of the Herald.—The writer of the Portsmouth letter in a recent issue of the Freeman's Standard seems anxious to have a parade of the fire department this year but I cannot see where there will be any money available for that purpose, providing the apparatus gets repairs that are needed. If there should be any spare dollars in the fire department appropriation would it not be a good idea to send the chief to the convention of the National Association of Chief Fire Engineers which is to be held in New York city Sept. next. It is a school of instruction and an exhibition of all kinds of apparatus pertaining to fire departments.

RAILROAD NOTES

The several hundred members of Dock Freight Handlers Union 509 met Sunday at Boston and voted to accept the new wage scale and working conditions schedule as offered by the officials of the Boston & Maine system. By the new scale the men receive an increase in wages from $2.14 to $2.30 a day. They also receive time and a half for overtime work and for Sunday and holiday work. Survey work on the St. John & Quebec railway, to be operated by electric power, has begun from Washburn across northern Maine to the Canadian border.

FIRE UPON U. S. OFFICERS

Ninth Cavalry Took Up Battle and Killed Several Mexicans.

El Paso, Tex., March 2.—In a running fight on the border near Douglas, Ariz., early today, between Mexican soldiers and troops of the Ninth U. S. Cavalry, four Mexicans were killed. Nine of the American troops were killed or wounded according to advices received here late today.

Four American army officers, walking on the American line three miles from Douglas were reported to have been fired on by forty regular Mexican soldiers, patrolling the border out of Arroyo Prieta, opposite Douglas. Sixteen of the negro troops of the Ninth rushed to the place of the firing and a spirited skirmish ensued. The American soldiers were holding their position on the international line when reinforced by two troops of the Ninth. The Mexicans were routed, leaving four killed on the field, and others straggling through the brush wounded. It is said that the American troops became so excited, that they overstepped the boundary and pursued the Mexicans for some distance.

The fight caused great excitement at Douglas, to which place the telephone lines are not open today. The townspeople armed themselves and went to the boundary, believing the Mexican soldiers were attempting to invade the United States. Within a few minutes hundreds of citizens were at the place, armed and ready. Cowboys rushed in from nearby ranches.

DIES ON WAY TO INAUGURAL

Member of Salem Cadet Band Drops While Marching in Postoffice Square.

Boston, March 3.—The departure for Washington yesterday afternoon, of the last section of the Massachusetts volunteer militia that is to participate in tomorrow's inaugural parade, was saddened when Augustus D. Coule, the star bugler of the Second Corps Cadets Band of Salem, was stricken and died on the march from the North to the South station.

The cadets, 200 strong, had come down from Salem on the train which arrived at the North station at 3.25 o'clock. There they formed in marching order and, headed by their band—a organization with an almost national reputation—started for the South

CAPITALIZATION

Preferred stock authorized.....$125,000
Common stock authorized.....$125,000

The principal and interest of the Preferred Stock are unconditionally guaranteed by The Debenture Corporation of New York by endorsement on each certificate.

ORGANIZATION.

The Broadway-Fort Washington Corporation was organized to acquire title to the two large apartment houses, known as the Jessica and Jasper, located on 181st street between Broadway and Fort Washington avenue, New York City, subject to liabilities, which will be reduced and limited by the placing of the Preferred Stock, to the total first mortgage as set forth in the following statement.

OFFICERS.

Eugene E. Adams, President; James A. Corenran, Vice-President; David R. Daly, Secretary and Treasurer.

PROPERTY.

The Jessica and Jasper are six-story and basement elevator apartment house buildings, erected less than three years ago, located at 728, 730, 732, 734, 736 and 738 West 181st Street. The buildings are noticeable for their imposing style of architecture, the impressive and beautiful entrances, and the unusual depth and width of the open courts. There are over five hundred rooms divided into 120 housekeeping apartments of from two to six rooms, each having a foyer hall, bathroom, kitchen or kitchenette.

VALUES.

The most accurate way of arriving at the intrinsic value of improved property is on the basis of income derived therefrom, value of land and cost of reproducing the improvements thereon. Unquestionably, the lots upon which these apartment houses stand, because of their unusual depth and width, could not be purchased and the buildings thereon reproduced for less than $550,000. A careful estimate based on the rental values and running expenses shows the net earnings to be nearly three times the Preferred Stock dividend requirements.

STATEMENT SHOWING INCOME, EXPENSES AND PROFIT.

Yearly income (based on present rental value of 120 apartments).....	$55,296
Wages.....	3,000
Interest on mortgage, $287,000 at 5 per cent.....	14,350
Coal.....	2,800
Water.....	682
Taxes.....	5,856
Fire Insurance.....	600
Rental Insurance.....	150
Light and Power.....	1,200
Allowances for miscellaneous expenses, vacancies, repairs, etc.....	6,600
Total annual expenses.....	$26,018

Net annual profit.....$29,278

From the foregoing statement, it will be seen that, based on the present rental value, the buildings earn a net profit of over 8 per cent. on the entire capitalization, which is sufficient to pay 6 per cent. on both the Preferred and Common Stock and leave a surplus, as follows:

Net annual profit.....	$29,278
6 per cent. on $125,000 Preferred Stock.....	$15,625
6 per cent. on $125,000 Common Stock.....	7,500
Surplus.....	$6,153

As the buildings are in a location constantly increasing in value, the rentals can be gradually increased so that the average gross rental for the next few years can be estimated as at least ten per cent. more than at present in which case the Preferred Stock and Common Stock can receive 8 per cent. and still leave over $5,000 a year surplus, as follows:

Present annual rental value.....	$55,296
Increased annual rental on basis of 10 per cent. advance.....	6,529
Annual expenses.....	$26,018
6 per cent. on $125,000 Preferred Stock.....	$15,625
6 per cent. on $125,000 Common Stock.....	7,500
Surplus.....	$5,807

We recommend and offer the unsold portion of these shares for investment at a price to net over 6 per cent. Further information upon request.

and several other bills resting in conference committees where agreements had not yet been reached upon disputed points.

Aside from the seamen's bill in the Senate and the workmen's compensation bill, upon which it was believed the Senate would accept the amendments made by the House, little actual legislation remained tonight to hold the attention of the two bodies during the remaining hours of the 62nd Congress. Scores of members of the House were watching an opportunity to force upon the attention of that body minor measures which they hoped might be passed in the closing hours of the session, but practically all subjects of importance had been disposed of.

The agricultural appropriation bill, as agreed upon in conference late today, restores the authority of the congressional distribution of seeds which it had stricken out. The conferees dropped from the bill the plan for a bureau of markets, under the department of agriculture and for the establishment of a national game preserve in North Dakota.

WOMAN LOSES WAD OF MONEY

Evanston Police Are Trying to Solve the Mysterious Loss of $43,500 from Person

Chicago, March 2.—Mrs. Rael Mills, wife of a wealthy land owner of San Antonio, Texas today lies under the care of a physician at an Evanston, Ill., hospital after either having lost or been robbed of $43,500 in that city Saturday night. Mrs. Mills is suffering from a wound in the back of her head, but it is uncertain whether she was felled by a blow and robbed or whether she fainted and sustained the injury by a fall to the sidewalk.

"It is one of the strangest stories that ever came to my attention," said Chief of Police Shaffer of Evanston, tonight. "There seems to be about six different mysteries that have to be solved instead of one."

According to information obtained by the police, Mrs. Mills came to Chicago from San Antonio less than a week ago and registered at a leading hotel. Shortly before noon Saturday she is supposed to have drawn $45,000 from a bank and on returning to the hotel to have given the money into the care of the cashier, receiving a receipt therefor.

When she returned for the money a short time later, it is said, that she discovered that she had lost the receipt, but as she had succeeded in making herself known to the cashier she succeeded in getting the money without trouble. In the afternoon she went to Evanston to attend a dinner at the home of a friend, carrying the $45,000 in a large brown handbag, a part of it being in a smaller purse inside the larger bag.

After the dinner Mrs. Mills started back to Chicago, but on the way opened the handbag and discovered that the smaller purse was missing. She returned to Evanston, missed her way, and at 9:30 was seen walking by a policeman whom she did not accost. What happened during the next hour is not known.

At 10:30 she staggered to a stranger's door and asked for assistance. A physician and her friends were summoned. The latter discovered the smaller purse, containing $1950 at their home. Later the handbag was found on the sidewalk opened and with the money missing.

The police are unable to understand why Mrs. Mills rode beyond her station on her return to Evanston, and why the scene of her mishap should have been several blocks from the house at which she applied for aid. That she had the money was established by eyewitnesses. A theory is that Mrs. Mills was dazed by a fall and wandered away without looking for her handbag, which was afterward found and filled.

It was said at the hospital that Mrs. Mills is suffering from concussion of the brain and that her condition is serious. She also is ill from exposure. The physician who attended her said he did not believe she could have received such an injury by falling.

Mrs. Frank W. Call of North Berwick passed the week-end in town.

The following interesting item reached the Kittery correspondent too late for Saturday's issue:

As an innovation in the entertainments given by the Second Methodist church, the Men's Bible Class gave a supper and entertainment last night in the vestry of the church, men alone being in charge of all departments and performing all the work. A very tempting spread served to put the diners in a excellent humor for the fine entertainment that followed. This consisted of solos by Mr. Clapp of Portsmouth, old time songs by Mr. Smith of Dover, with piano accompaniment by Mr. Jewell; piano solo by Mr. Jewell and reading by Mr. Abbott of Elliot. Each number was applauded to the echo and was well worthy of the hour given. Ice cream was served immediately following this. The vestry was effectively decorated with the colors of the Bible Class, the tables were deftly spread and the whole arrangement reflects credit upon the men in venturing into this unfamiliar field. The attendance was very good, considering the unfavorable weather conditions, and from start to finish the affair did not lag a minute. Thanks are due the many men who, by their co-operation, aided in making this effort such a decided success.

Riverside Lodge, No. 72, I. O. O. F., meets this evening. Business of importance will come before the meeting. Mrs. George Clough and niece, Edna Clough, of Kennebunk, passed the week-end with Mrs. Thomas Ritchie of Commercial street.

SHOE NEWS

N. H. BEANE & CO.,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

Most of the dust, dirt and confusion incidental to our renovation is over with—it's all clean work ahead. As soon as the cabinets and other fixtures arrive and the assemblers get in their work the store will be practically fit. We're doing business—lots of it—very day. Come in and look us over.

The rubber question is perhaps a hard proposition at best. But whatever you buy, get a good quality—such as the kind we carry and be fitted properly—the way we do it.

You will get much better service from your rubbers if you will adopt these suggestions.

Aside from its fitting qualities the Palston is a mighty good shoe to tie to. It has the style and refinement found only in the higher priced shoes and yet is sold at moderate prices—$4.00 to $6.00. Then again the Palston is known as a shoe of good service. With a combination of fit, style, good service and moderate price, don't you think it for your interest to look up the matter of Palstons?

OPERATORS MADE TWELVE MILLIONS ON COAL STRIKE

Bureau of Labor Investigation Reveals How Public Paid For Strike.

Washington, March 2.—Hard coal companies increased the wages of their employees $4,000,000 a year after the strike agreement of last May and increased the price of anthracite to consumers $13,500,000, according to a report based on an investigation by the Bureau of Labor submitted to the House Saturday.

The report submitted by Sec. Nagel is the result of an investigation conducted in response to a House resolution asking for the "elements of cost and profit included in the present high price of anthracite."

An average increase of 25 cents a ton in wholesale coal prices was discovered to have been made since the strike agreement of last May. In spite of the fact that the workers benefited about $4,000,000 in increased wages during the year, the report adds that "the recent increases in prices have been more than sufficient to compensate fully those companies whose share of production have increased most rapidly during recent years, and at the same time have very greatly increased the profits of those companies of whom there are at least several whose costs of production either decreased or remained stationary during the same period."

Increase More Than $13,000,000.
Coal for domestic use increased a fraction more than 31 cents a ton, from 16 cents a ton, and the smaller steam sizes 16 cents a ton. These figures were based on comparison of net receipts by the operators after the agreement of May last with their receipts during the same months, June to September, 1911.

On the more than $12,000,000 gained by the operators after the strike agreement $10,000,000 was derived from general increases in prices and about $2,000,000 from the suspension of April and May discounts, while in addition a limited number of operators are reported to have "received very large sums through the sale of coal at premiums made possible by the shortage of shipments incident to the strike."

The discounts of 40 and 50 cents a ton customarily allowed in April and May on domestic size coal were suspended during these months in 1912. As a result the operators not only gained by saving this discount, says the report, but in addition purchasers who were unable to secure their usual supply in those months were forced to buy it during June, July or August, when discount rates were smaller, or in September and later when full circular prices are charged.

New England Cities Cited.

The $13,500,000 the report says, was not net profit, because out of it came the cost of the six weeks' cessation of work by the strikers and also the increase in their wages.

The increase in wages, however, the report adds, represents a raise of only 8 to 10 cents a ton in the cost of coal production.

The report does not estimate how much more the public paid for its coal last year than if 1911 rates had prevailed; although it says that the increase in wholesale prices affected retail prices directly and that in all communities these advances were felt.

The retail increases averaged 25 cents a ton on steam and 30 to 50 cents on domestic coal.

In New York, Philadelphia and Washington retail advances "corresponded very closely with the advances in the circular prices" of the operators.

In some places, however, the advances were much more pronounced and the report cites Springfield, Mass., and Manchester, N. H., where it was approximately $1.60 a ton, and Boston and New Haven where it was 50 cents.

The retail dealers, it says, benefited very unequally from the price advances. Whether these increases were reasonable must be determined, the report adds, for individual communities.

All Gain Except Public.

The report shows that the coal companies affected by the Supreme Court decision of last December had until then a still further advantage, in that their contracts with independent companies by which they secured domestic coal at 65 per cent of the water price were not disturbed when the price of coal was increased in June.

While the so-called independent operators paid their miners the same increase in wages as the larger and companies, they got only 65 per cent of the price raise, while 35 per cent of it, or $8.75 cents a ton, went in the big companies.

As to the anthracite mine workers, the report says that they benefited by the strike agreement of May 20 last, not only by an average increase of 50 per cent in their wages, but through the suspension of certain working conditions which were considered of importance, although they cannot be measured in terms of money an additional item of importance to the miners being the partial recognition of their organization, both in the negotiations and in the form in which the agreement was signed.

KERN TO FIND RIVAL IN SENATE

Washington, Mar. 2.—The withdrawal of Senator Martin of Virginia from the race for the chairmanship of the Democratic caucus, carrying with it the senate floor leadership, has caused a renewal of interest in the reorganization of the senate after March 4, when the Democrats come into control of that body.

Early indications that Senator Martin's withdrawal would result in the selection of Senator Kern without further struggle inside the party ranks, gave way late in the day to evidence that the contest for control of the senate or organization is not yet ended. The chief point of contention remaining is that involving the reorganization forces that place on all the important committees be distributed without regard to the service they have had.

Senator Martin's withdrawal was interpreted by many of the senate leaders today to be an assurance that the new senate would be organized in harmony with the new administration, and that its policies would be in accord with those of President Wilson. Senator Kern, who was the Democratic vice-presidential candidate four years ago, is believed to be in accord with Mr. Wilson's views on most public questions, while Senator Martin notwithstanding his support of the Baltimore platform, has been considered by the organization forces a conservative.

LUNCH FOR SEVEN COSTS BUT 79 CENTS

The bite and cry about the high cost of living will not cease members of the cooking classes of the Cambridge, Mass., trade school. The great economic scare was dealt a solar blow yesterday when a five course luncheon was prepared for seven persons at a total expense of 79 cents. Here's the menu:

Tomato soup ..... 7c
Baked macaroni and cheese ..... 15c
Eggs on toast ..... 30c
Broad pudding ..... 15c
Hot biscuit and butter ..... 20c
Total ..... 79c

The guests at the dinner were members of the school faculty and the school committee of Cambridge. The Trade School is in the Morrill School, Fayette street and Broadway. Those present were Rpt. Michael E. Fitzgerald of the Morrill School; Chairman James B. Vailley, Secretary; Mrs. Florence Lee Whitman, and John W. Bradley of the school board. They pronounced the luncheon excellent.

SET BACK FOR CIVIL SERVICE

Springfield, Ill., March 2.—In an opinion rendered today Atty. General Pollock Lacey declared unconstitutional the 1911 amendments to the state-wide civil service law.

These amendments materially increased the scope of the law placing employment of the offices of Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, and other state offices, and many boards and commissions under civil service. It is said approximately 2000 persons are affected.

Cottolene the economical cooking fat

Cottolene is well adapted for pastry-making because it produces light, delicate, flaky crust, and is much more wholesome than either butter or lard.

Cottolene is a vegetable product—contains no animal fat. It has more nutritive value, and food made with it digests more readily than if made from animal fat.

Cottolene is better and cheaper than lard, it costs about the price of lard. Two-thirds of a pound of Cottolene will do the work of a full pound of butter or lard.

Cottolene is never sold in bulk—always in air-tight tin pails, which protect it from dirt, dust and odors. It is always uniform and dependable.

STATE MAY HAVE BUT ONE SENATOR

Concord, N. H., March 2.—After 12 o'clock, noon, tomorrow, for some time how long or how short no one can say with certainty, New Hampshire will have but one United States Senator at Washington, Jacob H. Gallinger. The term of Henry E. Burdham expires at the time stated and there will be no one named at that hour to take his place. It is true that there may be a Senator elected by 1 o'clock tomorrow. It is true that there may not be any elected until two years from now.

Last Tuesday it looked as though the deadlock was near its end. Representative Smiley of Sutton, anti-Hollis Democrat, had died the day before. Representative Cutler of Jaffrey, similarly classified, was seriously ill. Three Republicans were absent without pairs; Fernon of Franklin, a Democrat who had strayed, returned to the Hollis ranks; and two Republicans, Folson of Dover and Pannofon of Manchester, were converted. The net result was that Henry P. Hollis lacked but three votes of a choice and all his supporters went to bed that night with the prophecy "We'll do it tomorrow" on their lips.

But the luminance of real danger afforded the Republican defense remarkably and Wednesday found Mr. Hollis live from an election. On Thursday Richardson of Chesterfield jumped the fence to Hollis, leaving the latter within four steps of the goal at the end of the week. After voting in a body for Speaker Belton on Tuesday, a majority of the Progressives returned to ex-Governor Bates as their candidate for the rest of the week. The Ward nine, Manchester, delegation, however, joined with a number of Hillsborough and Rockingham county Republicans in a boom for Colonel John H. Bartlett, former postmaster of Portsmouth. Secretary of State Pearson continued as the regular Republican candidate through the week by vote of the party conference Tuesday morning.

Both branches during the week adopted resolutions for an investigation of rumors of attempted bribery and other improper influence upon votes in the senatorial contest. Senators Wallace, Gerry and Prentiss were named as such committee in the upper branch and in the house Representatives Smith of Peterborough, Demerit of Durham and Webster of Haverhill. There is some reason to believe that this move was preventive rather than punitive in its motive.

Wednesday was the liveliest day in the way of debates that this session has furnished thus far. Five separate acts elicited half a hundred speeches. A bill for medical inspection of public school children got through against Christian Science protests. Sunday baseball was killed and so was Congressman Stevens's bill to abolish the trustee process. Manchester asked for 90 cent gas by state enactment, but did not get it, while the question of raising the price of board for prisoners in jails was sent back to the judiciary committee for further consideration.

This committee put in considerable time last week on the large number of bills that are before it for changes of one sort and another in the public service commission law. In this connection General Solletier E. J. Rich of the Boston & Maine railroad made his first visit of the session to the state house and was warmly welcomed by the many friends he made two years ago when his skillful handling of a most difficult situation put the railroad in a better position in favor with the people of the state than it had been for a long time previous. At this writing name of the important railroad bills has come out of committee, but it is believed that some of them will be heard from and that the governor's message on that and other subjects will be received before the end of the week.

The senate passed 20 bills during the week and the house 30, and the house killed about 40. A dozen new bills came in from committees of one or the other branch so that, while the machine was speeded up a little over previous weeks, the rate of progress was not as rapid as might be desired for the ninth week of the session.

Among the house bills that went through the senate and to the governor during the week were acts making Columbus Day a legal holiday; regulating the weights of motor trucks; and allowing towns to employ road experts as highway agents. Among the bills that will get no farther this session, having received the verdict, "inconvenient to legislate" during the week, were acts for a state free employment agency, to license dealers in fireworks, requiring one day's rest in seven for all employees, establishing a state geological survey, to repeal the direct primary law, for the payment of old age annuities by the state and for new normal schools at Lancaster and Whitefield.

Representatives Brennan of Peterborough and Tilton of Tilton received congratulations last week on their appointment as aides on the staff of Governor Feltner with the rank of major. Adjutant General H. F. Tuttle of Claremont continues as the active head of the National Guard establishment and the other aides are Major Channing B. Hoyt of Portsmouth, Major Albert H. Lincoln and Major Frank B. Maguire of Rochester.

ter, Major J. A. Charest of Nashua and Captain Frank T. Ripley of Franklin. One more, probably from Manchester, is to be appointed.

Two special orders for this week Wednesday which promise interesting debates in the house are on bills allowing towns to engage in the moving picture business and taking away the right to practice medicine from a physician who refuses to consult with another M. D. when asked to do so.

M. C. PEARSON.

NO INDIGESTION, GAS OR SOUR STOMACH

"Pape's Diapysin" Makes Your Stomach Feel Fine in Five Minutes

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy, and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn dumps, your head dizzy and aches, belch gases and acids, and eructate undigested food, breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapysin and in five minutes you truly will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapysin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated, and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless, relief is Pape's Diapysin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things right, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake don't go on and on with a weak disordered stomach, as so unnecessary.

HARRY L. BEACHAM DEAD

Harry L. Beacham, one of the best known business men of the city, died at 5:15 Sunday afternoon at his home in Lincoln avenue, after an illness of some weeks with Bright's Disease. His death has been expected for the past week, for while he made a brave fight for the disease was such that he finally succumbed.

He was 51 years of age, and was born in this city, the son of Richard H. and Maria Stoddard Beacham. After attending the local school and Phillips Academy he went west in the early eighties and for a time was in the ranch business. He gave that up at the request of his father and returned home and went into the livery business with his father, and materially assisted his father in conducting probably what was the finest livery stable in New England.

With the advent of the automobile he became interested and conducted a garage and when the Granite State Fire Insurance company built the Wheel street garage he was given the lease and has conducted it until his death. He was a well known authority on horses.

Ten years ago he was united in marriage with Miss Blanche Lampray and from this union a son was born, Harold, who with his mother survives.

Mr. Beacham was prominent in the Masonic bodies. He was a member of the St. Andrews Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and Washington Chapter and Duxbury Council, and a 32 degree Mason and a member of Aleppo Temple Shriner. He was also a member of DeWitt Clinton Commandery, Knights Templar.

He leaves besides his wife and son, his parents, and one brother Alton of Albany, N. Y.

Brussels, Belgium, Feb. 25.—Fear of a possible war between the great European powers appears to exist among the members of the Belgium cabinet and to be shared also by the leaders of the opposition parties who have been taken into the confidence of the ministry with the object of making the pending increases of the Belgian armies non-partisan in character. M. Hymans, leader of the liberal party in the house of Representatives, last night declared that as Belgium in the event of the outbreak of war, would become the battleground of Europe, the country must do its utmost to prepare for its defense.

WE CAN BEAT THE EGGS BUT NOT THE RECORD

Henry E. Perry of Dover has a few hens that have established a championship record for laying during the past month. Mr. Perry has nine Rhode Island Red pullets and six barred Plymouth Rock pullets that laid 277 eggs during the twenty-eight days in February. The Rhode Island Red pullets were hatched in June and the Rocks were only a few days older. The fifteen pullets have averaged laying over nine eggs a day during the past month which is a record that will be hard to beat.
